

Fate's Edge Adventure Module Template

Creating Cohesive Scenarios Using Deck Inspiration

Adventure Module Structure Overview

Core Components of Every Module:

1. Theme and Tone: What feeling should this evoke?
2. Deck-Based Seed: Using card draws to inspire cohesive elements
3. Narrative Hook: Why do the PCs care?
4. Key NPCs: Who populates this story?
5. Scene Clocks: What ongoing pressures drive tension?
6. Resolution Paths: How can PCs succeed (or fail) meaningfully?
7. Campaign Integration: How does this fit into larger arcs?

Template: "The Singing Wastes" - A Black Banners Adventure

1. Theme and Tone

- Theme: War's aftermath, haunted battlefields, the cost of violence
- Tone: Melancholy, mysterious, with moments of terrible beauty
- Genre Elements: Military fantasy, supernatural mystery, post-conflict drama
- Mood Words: Haunting, desolate, echoing, frozen, restless

2. Deck-Based Seed Generation

GM: Using the Black Banners generator to create our scenario:

GM: Drawing until all four suits appear:

Spade (Q - The Bone Fields) A place where the Ykrul clans come to negotiate terms with the dead

Heart (J - The Black Colonel) Legendary commander who hasn't been seen in the field for months

Club (K - High Chief plays the companies against each other) Winner takes nothing

Diamond (Q - Clan-Mother's war-braid) Her warriors will fight beside you this battle

GM: Highest rank is Q (Queen), so we have an 8-segment primary clock. The Ace rule applies: weapons that remember, ice that holds the dead, loyalty that needs no banner.

3. Narrative Hook

The Premise: The PCs are hired by a Vilikari noble to investigate why the Bone Fields - a traditional neutral ground where war-bands come to negotiate with the dead - have become dangerous. Mercenary companies are disappearing, and the Black Colonel (a legendary figure thought dead) has been sighted leading ghostly troops.

PC Motivations:

- Mercenary: Former soldier seeking answers about missing comrades
- Noble: Family honor at stake, political implications
- Scholar: Ancient battlefields hold historical/magical significance
- Outsider: Curious about the strange customs of the borderlands

4. Key NPCs

The Black Colonel (Antagonist/Enigma) Once a brilliant tactician, now a wraith bound to the battlefield. Not evil, but unable to stop fighting the war he never finished. Carries a banner that makes the dead fight.

- Motivation: Finish the battle that cost him everything
- Method: Uses the Clan-Mother's war-braid to bind spirits to his cause
- Weakness: Cannot cross running water; obsessed with honor

Clan-Mother Yara (Allies/Obstacle) A Ykrul leader who initially hired the Black Colonel but now regrets it. She's pragmatic and honorable, but her war-braid has been corrupted.

- Motivation: Save her people from the Colonel's influence
- Resources: Knowledge of death-rites, loyal warriors
- Complication: Her own ancestors now fight against her

Captain Thorne (Red Herring/Ally) Leader of a missing Free Company. Found alive but changed - he speaks of beautiful music that called his men away.

- Motivation: Wants to return to his men, doesn't understand he's part of the haunting
- Knowledge: Saw the Black Colonel's banner, heard the singing
- Role: Guide to the deeper mystery, potential sacrifice

5. Scene Clocks

Singing Wastes Corruption Clock (8 segments)

●●●●●●●● 0/8

How far has the haunting spread beyond the Bone Fields

Advancement Triggers:

- 1-2 CP: Local spirits become restless
- 3-4 CP: Living begin hearing the songs

- 5-6 CP: Dead start appearing in nearby settlements
- 7-8 CP: River crossing becomes impassable, region quarantined

Colonel's Army Clock (6 segments)

●●●●●● 0/6

Strength of the ghostly force under the Black Colonel's command

Advancement Triggers:

- Each missing company: +1 segment
- Successful death-rite by the Colonel: +1 segment
- PCs fail to disrupt a haunting: +1 segment
- Clan-Mother's resistance weakens: +2 segments

Clan-Mother's Resolve Clock (4 segments)

●●●● 0/4

Her willingness to sacrifice to end the haunting

Advancement Triggers:

- Seeing ancestors among the enemy: +1 segment
- Pressure from Vilikari noble: +1 segment
- Personal losses accumulate: +1 segment
- PCs show weakness/mistakes: +1 segment

6. Adventure Flow

Act I: Arrival and Discovery (Sessions 1-2)

Opening Scene: The PCs arrive at the Bone Fields to find them unnaturally quiet. The traditional markers and burial mounds are intact, but no war-bands are present.

Key Scenes:

1. Investigation of abandoned campsites (Wits + Survival/Lore)
2. First encounter with the haunting - ghostly music, cold spots
3. Meeting Captain Thorne, who warns them away
4. Discovery of the Black Colonel's banner in a makeshift shrine

Clock Advancement:

- Singing Wastes Corruption: +2 (first haunting encounters)
- Colonel's Army: +1 (banner discovered)

Act II: Deepening Mystery (Sessions 3-4)Key Scenes:

1. Meeting Clan-Mother Yara at her temporary camp
2. Learning about the war-braid and its corruption
3. Investigation of the actual battlefield where the haunting originates
4. Confrontation with ghostly soldiers (combat + social challenges)
5. Discovery that the "music" is the Colonel's tactical commands

Clock Advancement:

- Singing Wastes Corruption: +2 (haunting spreads to nearby areas)
- Colonel's Army: +2 (more spirits bound)
- Clan-Mother's Resolve: +1 (sees ancestors among the enemy)

Act III: Climax and Resolution (Sessions 5-6)Key Scenes:

1. The final confrontation at the heart of the battlefield
2. Choice: Destroy the war-braid (killing bound spirits) or perform a counter-rite
3. Battle against the Colonel's ghostly army
4. Resolution of the haunting and its consequences

Clock Resolution:

- If Singing Wastes Corruption fills: The haunting spreads to neighboring regions
- If Colonel's Army fills: The ghostly force becomes unstoppable without major sacrifice
- If Clan-Mother's Resolve fills: She performs the ultimate death-rite, becoming part of the haunting

7. Resolution Paths

Victory (High Cost) PCs stop the haunting but at great personal/faction cost. The Black Colonel finds peace, but the region is scarred. Award 10-12 XP.

Compromise Haunting contained but not ended. PCs must return someday. Award 8-10 XP.

Failure Haunting spreads, more regions affected. PCs flee or are bound themselves. Award 6-8 XP but create ongoing campaign thread.

Noble Failure PCs lose but save innocents or preserve honor. Award 8-10 XP with strong narrative hook.

8. Custom Mechanics

The Singing Mechanic: When PCs are in the Bone Fields, they must make Wits + Lore rolls (DV 2) to resist the haunting songs. Each failure generates 1 CP that the GM can spend to create haunting effects or advance clocks.

War-Braid Bond: PCs who gain the Clan-Mother's war-braid (Diamond benefit) gain +1 die to social rolls with Ykrul but attract ghostly attention (+1 CP on all rolls while in haunted areas).

Echoing Past: Successful rolls in the ancient battlefield may grant fleeting visions of the original battle, providing useful information but generating 1 CP from temporal dissonance.

9. Campaign Integration

- Tier I-II: Introduction to border conflicts and supernatural threats
- Tier III: Can be revisited when the haunting returns stronger
- Tier IV+: The Black Colonel may return as a mythic-level threat
- Faction Hooks:
 - Ykrul clans now owe the PCs a favor
 - Vilikari noble may offer ongoing employment
 - Ecktorian scholars want reports on the phenomenon
 - Free Companies seek missing comrades

Module Creation Quick Reference

Step-by-Step Module Creation:

1. Choose a Generator Deck: Pick the region that fits your theme (Black Banners for war, Mistlands for mystery, Silkstrand for intrigue, etc.)

2. Draw Your Seed: Draw until you have Spade (Place), Heart (Actor), Club (Complication), Diamond (Leverage/Resource)

3. Identify the Highest Rank: This determines your primary clock size and sets the epicenter of your adventure

4. Apply Special Rules: Check for Aces (ongoing omens), Face cards (powerful entities), and regional special mechanics

5. Extract Core Elements:

- What makes this place unique?
- Who is the key actor and what do they want?
- What's the main complication driving tension?
- What resource/leverage can help/hinder the PCs?

6. Build the Narrative Hook: Connect the seed elements into a compelling reason for PCs to care

7. Create 2-3 Scene Clocks: Primary conflict clock, NPC motivation clock, environmental/social pressure clock

8. Design Key NPCs:

- One antagonist/enigma (from the Heart)
- One ally/obstacle (connected to the Club)
- One red herring/information source (related to the Spade)

9. Plan 3-Act Structure: Opening discovery, deepening mystery, climax/resolution

10. Add Custom Mechanics: One unique rule that reinforces the theme

11. Define Resolution Paths: Multiple meaningful endings based on PC choices

12. Create Campaign Hooks: How this adventure connects to larger story arcs

Pre-Rolled Adventure Modules

Template for Quick Setup: Each pre-rolled module includes:

Header Box:

- Adventure Title and Theme
- Recommended Party Size and Tier
- Primary Deck Used
- Estimated Session Length

Core Elements Section:

- The Hook (1-2 paragraphs)
- Key NPCs with motivations
- Scene clocks with clear advancement triggers
- Custom mechanics (if any)

Scene Cards (3-5 key encounters):

- Scene Setup
- Potential Approaches (combat, social, stealth, etc.)
- Clock Advancement Opportunities
- Reward/Penalty Structure

Resolution Matrix:

- Success Conditions
- Partial Success Outcomes
- Failure Consequences

- XP Awards for Different Approaches

Campaign Integration Notes:

- How this fits into larger arcs
- Seeds for future adventures
- Faction relationship changes

Sample Pre-Rolled Module: "The Merchant's Gamble" (Silkstrand)

Header Box:

- Title: The Merchant's Gamble
- Theme: Economic intrigue, family honor, criminal underworld
- Deck: Silkstrand Generator
- Party: 3-4 PCs, Tier I-II
- Sessions: 2-3 sessions

The Hook: A prominent Silkstrand merchant family, the Theravels, has hired the PCs to investigate why their spice shipments keep disappearing. What should be a simple escort job becomes complicated when they discover the family's own heir is involved in the thefts.

Deck Seed:

- Spade (7 - Spindle Tower with creaking windlass-lifts)
- Heart (9 - Spinner-matron of the wormhouses)
- Club (8 - Silk-fungus blight)
- Diamond (10 - Exchange corner)

Primary Clock: Exchange Corner Panic Clock (8 segments) - How long before the market manipulation ruins the Theravel family?

Key NPCs:

- Matron Theravel: Family matriarch, desperate to save her house's reputation
- Young Theravel: Reckless heir who's been selling to the Blighters gang
- Spinner-Matron Vessa: Controls the silk market, orchestrating the manipulation

Scene Clocks:

- Exchange Corner Panic (8): Market destabilization
- Family Honor (6): Theravel reputation damage
- Blighters Gang (6): Criminal organization response

Resolution Paths:

- Expose the heir publicly (family ruined, 6-8 XP)
- Cover up for the family (market chaos continues, 4-6 XP)
- Blackmail the Spinner-Matron (wealthy but enemies made, 8-10 XP)
- Find legitimate solution (honorable but difficult, 10-12 XP)

Campaign Adventure Arc: "The Fractured Crown" (Vhasia)

Arc Overview: A 6-8 session campaign using multiple Vhasia draws to create a succession crisis affecting the entire region.

Session Structure:

1. Session 1-2: "The Empty Throne" - Initial crisis, multiple claimants emerge
2. Session 3-4: "The Noble's Gambit" - PCs choose sides, political intrigue deepens
3. Session 5-6: "The People's Voice" - Popular uprising, commoners get involved
4. Session 7: "The Military Question" - Army loyalty becomes decisive factor
5. Session 8: "The Coronation" - Final confrontation and resolution

Campaign Clocks:

- Succession Crisis (10 segments): How close is the kingdom to civil war?
- Noble Conspiracy (8 segments): How much have the nobles manipulated events?
- Public Unrest (8 segments): How angry are the common people?
- PC Influence (6 segments): How much power have the PCs accumulated?

Major NPCs:

- The Lame King's Regents (various factions)
- Claimant nobles (3-4 main contenders)
- Popular leaders (merchant guild, labor unions)
- Military commanders (split loyalties)

Custom Mechanics:

- Faction Influence: PCs can gain influence with different groups through successful rolls
- Public Opinion: Social rolls affect how the populace views the PCs and claimants
- Military Support: Certain actions can gain or lose army backing

Resolution Options:

- Support the "legitimate" heir (honorable but politically complex)
- Back a reformer (risky but potentially transformative)
- Install a puppet ruler (powerful but creates enemies)
- Prevent any coronation (chaotic but maintains status quo)

GM Preparation Checklist

Before the Session:

- Generate adventure seed using appropriate deck
- Create scene clocks with clear advancement triggers
- Prepare key NPCs with motivations and secrets
- Identify potential PC approaches and responses
- Prepare 2-3 Deck of Consequences draws for likely complications
- Set up custom mechanics and explain them clearly
- Plan resolution paths with meaningful differences
- Create campaign integration hooks

During Play:

- Announce clocks clearly and update them visibly
- Connect player actions to clock advancement logically
- Offer meaningful choices that affect multiple outcomes
- Let clocks fill when fictionally appropriate
- Provide XP based on engagement and consequences
