

Steps Into Sorrow

A Two-Part Exploration Arc for Fate's Edge

Tiers II–IV — 6–9 sessions — Philosophy puzzles, planar hazards, rival expeditions

What This Is

A complete arc that begins on the legendary Bridge of a Thousand Steps and descends into the shadow-rift metropolis of Seven-Sorrows. It emphasizes Position play, fail-forward travel, environmental puzzles, and escalating rival pressure. The finale centers on the Orrery of Lost Worlds.

At a Glance

- Part I — The Bridge of a Thousand Steps (Tier II): Each step poses a moral riddle or personal reckoning; failure costs gear, memory, or time instead of lives.
- Part II — The Sunken City of Seven-Sorrows (Tier III–IV): A thematic “district crawl” where sorrow-aspect challenges unlock the Orrery.

System Notes. Position sets your approach to hazards and social scenes; treat s as codified outcomes (keys, escorts, permits) that re-frame Position before rolling. Clocks pace rivals, environment, and dread. When 1s appear, spend SB to twist the route, split the party, or advance a rival rail. Keep dice scarce by rewarding preparation.

Core Tools for the GM

Position & DV Quick Reference

| Position | Typical DV | Examples of Fictional Advantage |
|------------|-------------------------|---|
| Dominant | Tier + 2 | Correct answer in hand; guide spirits favor you; rival stalled. |
| Controlled | Tier + 3 | Stable footing; time to think; relevant lore or tokens. |
| Desperate | Tier + 4 or more | Rift surge; taboo breached; rival in your face. |

Suggested DV Ranges by Part

| Part | Common DV Range | Notes |
|-------------------|-----------------|---|
| I: Bridge | 3–5 | Late steps escalate; spend Diamonds to reduce DV for one team member. |
| II: Seven-Sorrows | 4–6 | Districts start at DV 4; the Orrery begins at DV 6, dropping per solved sorrow. |

SB Spend Menus

Bridge of a Thousand Steps

- A step misinterprets intent; reroll at higher DV or pay a Toll (gear lost, memory tithe, or Dread +1).

- A crosswind of whispers moves a stone; party splits unless someone anchors with a confession.
- Another traveler manifests (echo of a PC's past) and demands to “walk with you” as a complication.

Seven-Sorrows

- Sorrow-echo duplicates a PC's last mistake in public, worsening crowd Position.
- Rival expeditions get ahead; tick Rival Lead [+1] and close a route.
- Rift surge changes district aspect; DV +1 until checked by a rite or offering.

Rivals (Use 1–2)

- Black Ferrule Company — mercenary treasure-rights. Edge: anchors, explosives. Tell: iron ferrules on boots.
- Order of the Last Dawn — apocalyptic zeal. Edge: sacramental wards. Tell: ash-smudged fingers.
- Gulls of the Chart — scholar-cartographers. Edge: partial maps, clever shortcuts. Tell: salt-ink stains.

Create a Rival Progress [6] and a Rival Lead [3]. Each SB you spend can tick one; PCs can reduce them with victories or bribes.

Part I — The Bridge of a Thousand Steps (Tier II)

Frame

The bridge is not continuous: each stone appears when a riddle is answered in deed or word. Steps draw questions from the travelers' regrets and values. Failing a step means cost, not death.

Crossing Clock

Use a Crossing [8] to track fatigue and conditions. Each setback ticks it. On fill, an enforced camp-on-air scene occurs: safety at the price of a Toll.

Approaches

Each step can be met by different approaches; match to playbooks and talents.

- Lore/Insight: reason, recall, pattern.
- Resolve/Spirit: confession, vow, acceptance.
- Athletics/Wits: leap, counter-gust, lateral thinking.
- Magic/Rites: sanctify a step, bind a doubt, mirror a truth.

Step Table (Roll or Choose)

| d6 | Prompt | Consequence (on Cost/Miss) |
|----|--|---|
| 1 | “Which promise still binds you when none watch?” | Lose a minor item you brought to impress; it sinks into the air. |
| 2 | “What price would you pay to know the end?” | Memory tithe: choose a pleasant memory; it’s hazy until journey’s end. |
| 3 | “Whom did you fail to bury?” | A sorrow-echo follows, repeating a last conversation at bad moments. |
| 4 | “What tool do you reach for too quickly?” | Tools feel heavier; add +1 DV to force approaches until confessed. |
| 5 | “What do you refuse to forgive in yourself?” | Dread +1. A later apology to a party member clears it. |
| 6 | “What would you save if only one thing?” | A stranger ahead now holds it; bargain or race (tick Rival Lead [+1]). |

Signature Scenes

The Philosopher’s Truss. Interlocked stones demand three truths told in sequence: self, companion, stranger. Ordering them well grants a (Guide’s Favor) that downshifts Position once/scene on the bridge.

The Toll-Taker. An old keeper asks for coin, confession, or a scar. Paying grants Anchored Footing (ignore one split/shift SB). Cheating the Toll-Taker ticks Crossing [+2].

Mirrored Step. Each PC must answer the other’s prompt. On a miss, swap burdens for a scene; the wrong person suffers the cost—often revelatory, never lethal.

Bridge Climax Options

- Leap of Fellowship: Combine efforts (group action) to bridge a missing span. On cost, one PC leaves something behind (gear, memory, or favor).
- Answer in Deed: Resolve a party member’s step by acting it out now. Grants a group (Shared Vow) usable once per part.
- Summon a Way: Magic shapes a temporary stone. It lasts exactly as long as the caster holds their breath in honesty.

Part II — The Sunken City of Seven-Sorrows (Tier III–IV)

Frame

Seven districts embody seven kinds of sorrow. Each solved sorrow weakens the rift and lowers the Orrery’s DV by 1 (to a minimum of 3). Districts invite non-combat problem-solving; violence tends to multiply echoes.

City Clocks

- Rift Instability [6] (surges close or rotate streets)
- Rival Progress [6] (shared with Part I)
- Civic Memory [7] (how much of the city remembers itself)

District Menu (Choose 3–5)

District of Broken Promises. Doorways recite oaths. Challenge: correctly amend an oath to include true limits. SB: doors bargain with rivals. Reward: (Right of Passage) through any one sealed portal.

Quarter of Final Regrets. Plazas show last choices. Challenge: stage a reenactment with a different ending that could have been. Fail-forward: the crowd insists on an encore at the worst time.

Hall of Unfinished Songs. Melodies lack final lines. Challenge: complete a refrain that heals rather than conquers. Magic: resonant spells can take the melody's shape. Reward: reduce Rift Instability [-2].

Market of Unsent Letters. Stalls sell words never mailed. Challenge: purchase the right unsent letter and deliver it to a living recipient. Cost: you must leave an unsent letter of your own. Reward: (Bearer's Seal).

Gardens of No Farewell. Plants grow from farewells withheld. Challenge: prune without killing: a careful Position test. SB: roots entangle gear; lose something symbolic.

Tower of Abandoned Vows. Steps climb but do not descend; each level asks a vow renewed or released. Challenge: name what continues, and what ends. Reward: (Clear Conscience): once, ignore a social taboo's penalty.

Drowned Forum. Debate pits beneath shallow black water. Challenge: argue submerged; breath sets the tempo. Reward: set crowd mood for next public scene; reduce DV by 1 for a debate.

The Orrery of Lost Worlds (Finale)

A chamber of spheres, rings, and chains, orbiting a blank star. Start at DV 6; each district solved reduces DV by 1. Three Pillars hold the mechanism in fate:

- Axis of Names. The city remembers who it was. Counter: place true names recovered from letters and songs.
- Weights of Debt. Tallies of bargains hold the orbits. Counter: cancel or forgive a meaningful debt on-screen.
- Gnomon of Return. A shadow-mark sets the city's angle. Counter: align with the Bridge's rhythm (Shared Vow, Guide's Favor, or a sacrificial pause).

Outcomes

- Seal the Rift: The city stabilizes as a twilight district accessible by rite. Each PC chooses one sorrow they have truly laid down; gain a lingering boon.
- Map the Paths: The Orrery points to other lost places. Rivals depart rich; you earn routes and obligations.
- Offer to a Patron: Trade the Orrery's motion for a boon. The city changes—and so does the world nearby.

NPC Roster (Quick-Use)

| Name | Desires, Leverage, Tell, Voice |
|------------------------------------|---|
| Captain Brann of the Black Ferrule | Contracts; explosives, anchors; boots scrape stone; blunt, soldierly. |
| Sister Ysol of the Last Dawn | Purity; sacrament wards; ash-smudge ritual; fervent, precise. |
| Cartographer Pell of the Gulls | Knowledge; partial charts; hums while plotting; eager, scattered. |
| The Toll-Taker | Toll paid; rules of passage; weighs your words; wind-dry, patient. |
| The Conductor of Unfinished Songs | Completion; choirs of echoes; gestures a downbeat; resonant hush. |

A Session 1 (Bridge) — 3 Hours

1. Arrival (15 min): Establish why each PC must cross. Show a visible Diamond (Guide's Favor hint).
2. First Five Steps (45 min): Mix prompts 1–3. Offer a fail-forward that grants a temporary boon with a cost.
3. Pressure Beat (30 min): Wind shift splits the line; group action to reunite or pay a Toll.
4. Set-Piece (30–40 min): Philosopher's Truss; earn Guide's Favor or tick Crossing [+2].
5. Camp-on-Air (10 min): On fatigue, rest with a choice of coin, confession, or scar.

L Player-Facing Magic Guidelines

For Casters: Your magic reacts strongly to sorrow-echoes. Backlash may manifest as amplified regrets or temporal echoes.

For Runekeepers: Your patron watches this place closely. Obligation marks may come with visions of the city's past patrons.

For Invokers: Symbols hum with recognition here. Rituals take half time but attract echo-witnesses.

For Cantors: Unfinished songs seek completion. Your performances may temporarily heal rift instability.

For Summoners: Spirits behave oddly here. They may remember things from the city's past or refuse certain commands.
